McClintock Rejoins Council

In the wake of the resignation of Councilman Harold R. Peden, longtime public servant Richard B. McClintock was sworn in to fill the Borough Council vacancy on April 12.

Part-time Police Officer John Zebley (right) was sworn in on April 12 by Mayor Michael Ciach, while Acting Upland Police Chief Michael Irej held the Bible.

The congregation of Resurrection Life Church held a Fried Chicken Dinner Fundraiser on April 16, selling 90 home-cooked meals to help fund replacement of the church roof.

Crozer-Chester Medical Center officials want to demolish this vacant building on Upland Avenue, known as Sunnyside House, which was built in 1863 to be the home of a niece of John P. Crozer.

Corey of B & L Disposal Services (left) and Pete Hartshorn of the Upland Highway Department endured a rainy Saturday morning on April 23 to collect electronic recyclables in the MacQueen Hall parking lot. This semi-annual Electronic Recycling Event collected over 200 pieces (mostly TVs and computer items) weighing over 2 tons.

McClintock Back On Council

Councilman Harold 'Ray' Peden has resigned from his seat on Borough Council, effective March 22, prompting the Vacancy Committee to recommend Richard B. McClintock to Council for approval.

McClintock has already served a total of 20 years on Council, the last six of which were as Council president, prior to his own mid-term resignation in 2008.

The retired Mulberry Street resident brings a unique mix of experience to municipal government, having previously worked as an Upland police officer and the director of security at Crozer-Chester Medical Center. He is also an honorary life member and a past president of Upland Fire Company No. 1, as well as a veteran and past commander of Upland American Legion Post 871.

Other service positions on McClintock's resume include former president of the Upland Athletic Club, past president of Brookhaven Lions Club, former master of his lodge, past member of the Chester-Upland School Board, and life member of the southeastern PA Police Chief's Association.

Furthermore, McClintock has been the mayor of Upland Borough and a former member of the Delaware County Association of Boroughs, having served the latter as secretary and second vice president. He has also logged 25 years of service on the Delaware County Parks Board.

"It's great to be back!" McClintock said, after being sworn in once again on April 12. "I've served a long time in the Borough of Upland, and I really look forward to coming back."

Community Affairs Committee Needs Volunteers

Upland Borough's Community Affairs Committee is suffering from a lack of volunteers. The shortage of volunteer helpers threatens to force the cancellation of some of the events and activities that have been enjoyed by so many residents in recent years.

If you can give a few hours to help provide the manpower needed to support these popular offerings, please call the borough office at 610-874-7317 or contact CAC Member Moira Crawford at mrcrawford@uplandboro.org.

Part-Timer Joins Upland PD

Police Officer John Zebley was sworn in by Mayor Michael Ciach on April 12, to serve part-time on the Upland Borough police force.

Zebley lived in Upland until age 8, then moved to Prospect Park, where he graduated from Interboro High School. He graduated from the Delaware County Police Academy in 2006.

Officer Zebley has worked full-time for the Chester Housing Authority for the last 11+ years and as a part-time cop for the Prospect Park Police Department for the past 10 years. He plans to continue at both jobs, in addition to his new posting in Upland.

Historical Commission Wants Council To Deny Permit

Crozer-Chester Medical Center officials want to make a zoning change that would permit construction of a new free-standing home for the Family Dollar Store. Family Dollar is currently leasing space in the Upland Shopping Center, which gives the retail store 5,000 square feet of floor space, whereas the proposed building would provide 9,200 square feet.

The proposed building would sit across Upland Avenue from the shopping center, on land currently owned by Crozer-Chester Medical Center. The 2.5-acre lot that CCMC wants to sell to Family Dollar once had three vacant buildings on it. Two of those structures were recently razed, and a demolition permit has been requested for the third - a former Crozer family home known as Sunnyside House.

Prior to the requested issuance of a demolition permit for Sunnyside House, the Upland Borough Historical Commission reviewed the structure's historical status on April 6, aiming to make recommendations to Borough Council. After an hour-long hearing, followed by a half-hour executive session for legal counsel, the commission returned a unanimous decision to recommend denial of the permit.

The five-member Upland Historical Commission (UHC) was founded in 2014, and this case is the first potential construction project that the commission has been asked to review. With UHC Solicitor John J. Wills leading the proceedings, the applicant (Crozer-Chester Medical Center) was represented by Vice President of Facilities, Planning & Development Brian Crimmins.

No specific reason was given for the advisory body recommending permit denial, but UHC Chairman Lou Brown did question CCMC's efforts to maintain Sunnyside while it was vacant over the past six years, and he also questioned CCMC's efforts to "re-purpose" the house for another type of use.

Two New Hires Are Conditional

Borough Council announced the hiring of two borough employees at its April 12 session, noting that each new hire must obtain a Commercial Driver's License (CDL) within 90 days or face termination.

John "Tim" Peticca was re-hired as a full-time Highway Department worker. He was previously employed by the borough as an Auburn Village maintenance man.

Ronald Green has been hired part-time for Auburn Village maintenance. He has an extensive background in construction and maintenance.

Both new hires will be paid $15 per hour to start. An extra dollar per hour will be added to their pay rates, after each man has obtained the required CDL.

Did You Know?: Before he came to the New World to manage a mill, Caleb Pusey was a lastmaker, creating the wooden forms used to make shoes.

Eighth Street Beautification Project Making Progress

An overview of the ongoing Eighth Street Beautification Project was accepted as presented by Council on April 12. The project summary lays out the series of past and future steps that are necessary to improve the overall appearance of the area surrounding the bustling intersection of Eighth Street, Hill Street, Kerlin Street, and Upland Avenue.

In recent months, Council has purchased two vacant housing lots (#4 Eighth St., which has already been demolished, for $600, and the Pileggi property on Kerlin St. for $15,000) and has bid on another lot (#6 Hill St.), with the intention of tearing down the empty buildings to make room for landscaping with more eye-appeal.

"This is the entrance coming into Upland," noted Councilman Ed Mitchell. "If you look at it down there, it's kind of shabby... We're hoping to clean up that eyesore."

"It's been an eyesore there for a long time, but if you give us a little more time, we'll make it pretty," Mitchell added.

Upland Rejects SPCA Offer

The issue of where to take stray dogs and cats that are captured by Delco Animal Control officers remains unresolved. A recent offer from Brandywine SPCA (formerly Chester County SPCA) didn't help the matter, as the proposal was seen as one-sided by Upland Borough officials.

Under the rejected proposal, the borough would have to enter into a three-year contract for boarding services; would have to pay an annual fee of $2,000, plus a monthly fee of $500, plus from $150 up to $400 for each stray; and would have to cover the cost of insurance for Brandywine SPCA.

After reviewing the proposed contract, Borough Manager Greg Grillone labeled the pact as "an outrageous deal." He recommended that Upland go without stray boarding services, once the current contract with the Delaware County Animal Control Board expires on April 30.

"Some municipalities are using local vets, and others are just going to let whatever happens happen, and they'll continue to use their own animal control people to work with local shelters," Grillone told Council on April 12. "The good thing is that we don't get that many animals during the course of the year," he noted.

Council Approves Donation For Egg Hunts

Borough Council recently approved a $250 donation to the Upland Athletic Club to help cover part of the cost of the borough's Annual Easter Egg Hunt. The Upland AC co-sponsors the Egg Hunt with Upland Fire Company No. 1, while the borough's Community Affairs Committee serves up Breakfast with the Easter Bunny in MacQueen Hall.

Special thanks and recognition must go out to the Easter Bunny himself, and of course, his personal escort, Fireman Robert Covey.

This year's Annual Easter Egg Hunt was held on a chilly, but sunny March 26, with scores of kids in three different age groups gathered around hundreds of colorful plastic eggs laid out in Main Street Elementary School's side yard and on Bristol Lord Field's playground and ballfield. If you blinked, you may have missed the actual Egg Hunt(s), but much longer lasting were the smiles on the faces of the children who found hard cash inside their eggs, then had their picture taken with the Easter Bunny.

Website Visitors: Up, Up, & Up!

In case you have spent the winter hibernating, and are among the few who do not know, Upland Borough has the most visited municipal website in Delaware County, and the gap between first and second-place keeps growing.

Council Vice President/Webmaster Moira Crawford created Upland Borough's website when she joined Council in 2008, and now the renovated site draws more and more visitors each month. Each month of the new year has seen the website establish a new single-day high for number of visitors, with 195 visitors on Jan. 17 being edged by 196 visitors on Feb. 23, and then a new benchmark of 208 visitors being set on March 8.

If you are unaware of the wealth of information and the wide variety of links available on the borough website, you should visit www.uplandboro.org to find out what the buzz is all about.

In related business, Borough Council has approved the expenditure of an additional $135 to bring the borough's digital/electronic storage space up to 25 gigabytes, to accommodate greater use of the borough's website and email accounts.

Ciach Ready For 2nd State House Run

The Republican Party has endorsed Upland Mayor Michael Ciach for another run at the soon-to-be vacated 159th Legislative District seat in the Pennsylvania State House of Representatives. Ciach challenged incumbent Democrat Thaddeus Kirkland in 2014, but came up short, although the Mayor did carry the vote in 8 out of the 10 towns in the district.

Ciach, a Chester native and 40+ year resident of Upland, hopes to clear the hurdle of winning over the majority of voters in the City of Chester and Chester Township in his 2016 bid.

With Kirkland now poised to move into his new post as Chester's Mayor, Ciach's opponent at the polls this November will be Kirkland's nephew, Brian Kirkland. Both candidates will be uncontested in the April 26 primary election.

Mayor Ciach noted that although he was born in the City of Chester, Upland has been his home for most of his life, in fact, since the third grade.

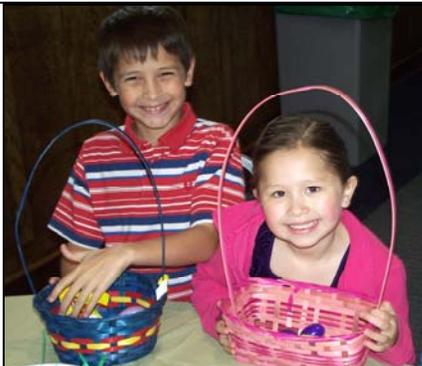

"I love this borough and it has been the keystone of my support," Ciach stated. "Over the last 30 years of public service to the borough, either as Coach, Councilman, or Mayor, I have received your unwavering support, and I vow to you that I will continue to serve this borough with a steadfast and unconditional resolve to keep Upland Borough the safe, honest, family town that I know it to be.

Whether I'm in the Capitol Building in Harrisburg or in MacQueen Hall in Upland, NOBODY, no matter who they are or who they think they are, will stand between me and that promise. I only ask this of you: your continued support and trust."

Easter Events Draw Crowd

The ever-popular Annual Easter Egg Hunt, co-sponsored by the Upland Athletic Club and Upland Fire Company No. 1, was held on March 26 in Upland Memorial Park.

After the Egg Hunt, the Easter Bunny posed for photos with children at MacQueen Hall during the Annual Breakfast with the Easter Bunny, sponsored by the Community Affairs Committee.

Another Month, Another Website Record

On Feb. 23, 2016, a total of 196 people logged onto Upland Borough's official website, establishing a new single-day benchmark for number of visitors. The new high for website visitors continues an ongoing trend. The previous single-day high of 195 visitors was set on Jan. 17, 2016, which bested the record of 190 visitors set on Sept. 8, 2015, which trounced the record of 169 visitors set on March 12, 2015.

Borough Bids On Properties

At the Feb. 23 meeting, Council unanimously authorized the borough solicitor to put in bids on two vacant Upland properties.

The unoccupied houses at 208 Sixth Street (the Lofland property) and 6 Hill Street are both of interest to the borough, as the properties are in strategic locations. Both lots have been earmarked to be utilized for public use, as part of the borough's ongoing beautification project.

Speed Limits Changed

Council amended the Vehicles and Traffic section of the borough code at its March 8 session. The changes include new speed limits for three borough roadways, all of which are effective immediately.

The new speed limit for the entire length of Main Street has been decreased to 25 MPH, where it had been 35 MPH.

Conversely, the new speed limit for Upland Avenue (between Kerlin Street and the Upland Borough line) and for 22nd Street (from Upland Avenue to the Upland Borough line) has been increased to 35 MPH, where it had been 25 MPH.

These speed limit adjustments are the outgrowth of PennDOT traffic studies that were done in recent months. The data from these studies is available for public inspection at the borough office.

Report Blocked Stormwater Inlets

To keep stormwater runoff flowing swiftly from the street and down into underground channels that ultimately take runoff to Chester Creek, stormwater inlet grates need to be cleared of debris on a regular basis.

Our Public Works Department is always on the lookout for partially blocked stormwater inlets, but every resident should be vigilant, and should report a blocked inlet to the borough office immediately.

Councilwoman Sandy Miazza's "outstanding contributions to the Community Affairs Committee" were honored by Upland Borough Council with the mounting of a wall plaque, located just outside the kitchen in MacQueen Hall.

Home Improvement Tips

The following tips may save you money and a lot of grief, if you are having any type of repairs or home improvements done around your home.

- Get at least three estimates, so that you can compare the prices of reputable companies. And don't hesitate to tell each contractor that you are shopping for the best price, as competition tends to keep prices down.
- Every contractor must show you proof of their insurance and a Home Improvement State License. They must also have an Upland Borough permit, and in some cases, an Upland Borough Contractor's License. A copy of the borough permit must be displayed in a front window of your home.
- Call the borough office at 610-874-7317 during regular business hours to get answers to any questions or concerns.

Upland Submits CDBG Wishlist

Borough Council recently held a public hearing to get input on potential public improvement projects that could be funded by a 2016 Community Development Block Grant. Delaware County Council awards CDBG funds every April, following the December submission of potential projects from each Delco municipality.

Upland has requested CDBG funding for new equipment and re-surfacing of the public playground next to Bristol Lord Field as a first choice, and funding for general street improvements as a second choice.

Homeowner "Disgusted" By Trash

A 25-year homeowner on W. 22nd Street recently came before Borough Council to complain about her renter neighbors. The frustrated resident listed multiple issues, including windblown trash, uncut grass in the summer, and sidewalks that are not shoveled in the winter – all of which are public health hazards.

As a homeowner surrounded by renters, the resident said that she was "disgusted" by the lack of attention that her neighbors and their landlords give to their properties. In most cases, the landlords live outside of Upland and are only interested in receiving their rent checks on time.

"This needs to be addressed constantly, until these landlords teach these tenants how to reside in a residential community, where people own their homes," the resident suggested.

Although the landlords can be cited for lack of property maintenance, the root of the problem is tracking down the out-of-state property owners to issue a citation, stated Code Enforcement Officer Bill Kirby.

Council advised Kirby to write citations as needed for code violations, then let the borough office do the job of finding the landlord's business address.

Borough Supports Pusey House Mission

Borough Council recently voted unanimously in approving a budgeted $7,000 donation to the Friends of the Caleb Pusey House (FCPH), the non-profit caretakers of historic Landingford Plantation on Race Street. The borough has made a comparable donation to the FCPH in recent years, providing funds that are used to pay for the utilities that help keep the Pusey House (1683), the Pennock Log House (1790), and Crozer Schoolhouse No. 1 (1849) open to the public from May through October.

Planning Commission Vacancy Filled

Borough Council has named retired-Judge Kenneth Miller to fill a vacant seat on the borough's planning commission. Miller, 79, served this community as a district judge in Delaware County for over 25 years, before retiring in 2008.

Miller's four-year appointment will expire on Dec. 31, 2019. The Upland Borough Planning Commission does not hold regularly scheduled meetings, but convenes on an as-needed basis.

Upland Seeks PECO Grant

Upland Borough has applied for a PECO Green Region Open Space Program grant to help resolve a stormwater runoff problem in the park playground at Sixth & Church Streets. These grants for public improvements can be up to $10,000, and will require the municipality to put up matching funds.

Stormwater runoff from the playground became a serious issue last winter, when sheets of ice formed on Church Street, requiring extensive salting for public safety. Council has also targeted this stormwater problem in the application for a 2016 Community Development Block Grant.

According to Borough Engineer Lisa Catania, the plan to redirect the stormwater flow will include the creation of a swale that will channel runoff into a rain garden and keep it out of the playground.

Council To Change Collectors

At its Feb. 9 meeting, Borough Council voted unanimously to terminate the contracts with two collection agencies – Berkheimer Associates and e-Collect. Berkheimer had previously collected unpaid local service taxes (LST), while e-Collect was responsible for garnering delinquent earned income taxes (EIT). Ninety days notice is required to terminate both collection contracts.

In the near future, Council plans to engage turnKey Taxes as the borough's collection agency for unpaid LST and EIT.

Seniors Enjoy Free Lunch

Scores of Upland senior citizens turned out on March 14 to take advantage of the Community Affairs Committee's Annual St. Patty's Day Ham & Cabbage Luncheon.

Among the many smiling faces at the free luncheon were Upland Senior Citizens Club President/Borough Councilman Lee Hunter (left) and his friend, retired-Judge Ken Miller.

On Feb. 27, the Community Affairs Committee held its Annual Soup-n-Salad Fundraiser Dinner at MacQueen Hall...

...And although this fundraiser actually lost money, the 60+ residents in attendance enjoyed all-you-can-eat homemade soups and chili, bread, desserts, and a salad bar.

Tax Collector Exonerated

At its March 8 meeting, Borough Council formally exonerated Borough Tax Collector Linda Mitchell of the collection of all unpaid 2015 taxes. A total of $8,857 in delinquent real estate taxes will now be turned over to the Delaware County Tax Bureau for collection, while a total of $10,841 in unpaid trash service fees will now be collected by Credit-Tec.

Upland Jumps On Cheap Asphalt

Acting on the advice of Borough Engineer Lisa Catania, Borough Council will be putting the 2016 road-paving program out to bid early this year, in an attempt to take advantage of unusually low asphalt prices. Early-bird paving contracts are being rewarded with asphalt prices as low as $85 per ton, which allows municipalities to do more paving, without spending more money, Catania said.

Hoping to seize this savings opportunity, Council will compile a list of potential public streets to be paved this year, and then seek bids from contractors as soon as possible.

In related business, Council has applied for $60,000 in county aid to help finance the repaving of Main Street.

Upland Police & Firefighters Busy In 2015

With year-end totals reported at Council's January meeting, it is apparent that both the Upland Police Department and Upland Fire Company No. 1 were very, very, busy last year.

In 2015, the Upland PD fielded 4,223 calls; issued 1,149 citations and 927 parking tickets; and ordered the towing of 191 vehicles.

Meanwhile, the borough's lone fire company responded to a total of 403 incidents last year, including six fires, 169 non-fire incidents, 198 mutual aid assists, and 30 drills.

The fire calls break down to 205 daytime calls and 198 at night, while totaling 290.4 hours in service for the year, with an average of six volunteer firefighters responding to each call.

In-Vesting In Delco Police

Last summer, Ridley Park Police Officer Marc Hanley was shot while on duty, but his life was saved by his bulletproof vest, even though the vest was technically past its safety expiration date. When Hanley's friend, Ed Allen of Media, heard about the incident, he decided to do something about the situation.

"After making my rounds to (Delaware County) police departments, I found that some vests were expired and some didn't have them," Allen explained. "I knew it was time to make a stand, and help out as best I could."

Over the past four months, Allen has donated $5,000 to purchase four new vests for Delco cops one for Ridley Park, one for Marcus Hook, one for Trainer, and most recently, one for the Upland PD. Allen intends to buy one vest each month for a full year, donating the vest where it is most needed, as part of Officer Hanley's Vest-A-Cop Campaign.

Apparently, losing the use of your hind legs does not mean that you lose your curiosity.
